Recipients of personal data

The data collected are intended for use by MBWS France.

The data may also be processed by subcontractors used by MBWS France to personalise the content of the Website, to process competition operations and to distribute newsletters.

Transfer of personal data outside the European Union

MBWS France informs the User that its personal data may be transmitted to service providers located outside the European Union as part of the optimisation of its advertising campaigns.

These service providers act in accordance with the European provisions relating to the protection of personal data of the “Privacy Shield” Convention.

Rights over your personal data

In accordance with the French Data Protection Act of 6 January 1978, as amended, Users have the right to access, correct and delete their personal data. The User has the right to request the limitation or to object to the processing of their data by the Site without the Site being able to refuse, unless it can demonstrate the existence of legitimate and compelling reasons that may prevail over the interests, rights and freedoms of the User.

Retention period for your personal data

Personal data of prospects:

Unless required by law, MBWS France retains your data for a maximum period of 3 (three) years after the last contact.

This period starts from the last contact (sending of a form, email, telephone call) or a click on a hypertext link in an email sent by MBWS France.

How to access my personal data

For any request, the User must indicate their surname, first name and postal address as well as an email address to enable them to send a response.

This application must be signed and accompanied by a copy of their valid identity document bearing their signature.

MBWS France has a period of 2 (two) months from receipt of the User's request to respond to it. At the end of this period, the User may contact the CNIL in the event of a negative response or no response from MBWS France.

Archiving of data

Information used to establish proof of a right or contract, or retained in respect of compliance with a legal obligation may be archived in accordance with the legal provisions in force.

Fate of personal data after death

MBWS France informs Users that they can define, during their lifetime, guidelines relating to the storage, erasure and communication of their personal data after their death. These guidelines may be general or specific. The User may change or revoke their instructions at any time.

To do so, the User may contact MBWS France via the appropriate Site form or by post to the following postal address:

MARIE BRIZARD WINE & SPIRITS FRANCE

Definition of Cookie

A cookie is a small text file that is placed or stored on your device (computer, tablet or mobile device) when you visit a website. The cookie allows a site to recognise you, help you navigate from page to page on your website, provides secure connections and remembers your preferences on future visits.

MBWS France uses cookies in order to recognise the User (customer or not) when logging on to the Website.

Cookie management

The User may, at any time, deactivate the cookies stored on their device.

To do this, they simply select the appropriate settings in their browser. However, this deactivation will prevent access to certain features of the Site offered by MBWS France or its partners.

With regard to the management of cookies and your choices, the configuration of each browser is different. Your browser's help menu describes this configuration, and it will let you know how to change your cookie preferences.

Deactivation of cookies via the main browsers

Deactivation of social networks

The Site uses social media plugins such as Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, Pinterest, Youtube, etc. (hereinafter “Social Media”). For example, if the User is connected to Facebook when browsing the Site, Facebook may directly link their visit to their Facebook user account even if the User has not used the share button. If the User interacts using the plugins, for example by clicking on the “Like” button or leaving a comment, the corresponding information will be transmitted and saved on a Facebook server. They will be published on the User's Facebook account.

MBWS France does not manage the data collected by the Social Networks via the buttons. Users must familiarise themselves with the policy on the protection of personal data published by the relevant Social Networks, in order to know the procedures for processing and using the data collected by them as well as the settings available to them to protect their privacy. If the User does not wish the Social Network to link the information collected via MBWS France to his/her Social Network user account, he/she must disconnect from the Social Network before consulting the Website.

Security measures taken by MBWS France to ensure the protection of personal data

MBWS France uses all technical means in accordance with best practice to maintain the integrity, security and confidentiality of data and in particular to prevent it from being distorted, damaged or accessed by unauthorised third parties.
